

VALIDITY OF SALES TAX IS UP TO COURT

Attorneys Complete Arguments Before High Tribunal

Springfield, Ill., April 21.—(AP)—The decision of the Illinois supreme court was awaited tonight as to whether the state tax of three per cent on gross retail sales would be held constitutional.

Oral arguments by attorneys were completed at noon and the seven justices of the court took a recess. The decision was expected to be rendered by the court on Monday.

An early decision was requested, but there was no indication when the case would be finally settled.

Vacation Opinion
The April term of the court is expected to end within a few days. It is possible that a vacation opinion might be handed down before the June term.

The state's plea that the injunction issued by Circuit Judge J. R. Brown at Edwardsville be over-ruled was made by Montgomery S. Winning, assistant attorney general.

He defended the sales tax in arguments with Roy F. Hall of Rockford, Roscoe Forth of Granite City and Frank J. Thompson of Mt. Vernon, attorneys representing Robert Irving Winter, Alton merchant, in whose name the original injunction suit was filed.

The sales tax opponents argued that it is incomplete, unworkable, indefinite, conflicting, arbitrary, unreasonable, confiscatory, discriminating, class legislation and a tax on labor and service.

Winning told the court that the law places a tax on the occupation of retailing, that it is an excise rather than a property tax and that it specifies the purposes for which the revenue is to be used, to relieve the unemployed or reduce school property taxes.

Hall and his associates contended that it was a tax against consumers and hence unconstitutional in that only taxes on property, occupations and privileges are permitted. They argued at length that it was unfair, that it was a tax on the sale of goods and that the exemption of motor fuel and farm products sold by the farmer is unlawful.

Another debated point was whether the legislature could leave to county boards the decision on whether revenue would go to school purposes or for other public purposes.

"We contend," Winning said, "that this is a tax imposed on the occupation of selling tangible personal property in retail. The legislature can tax almost any occupation. This law taxes the occupation of selling tangible personal property in retail. It is a tax on the sale of goods and that the exemption of farm products sold by the farmer and motor fuel. We have acts of this kind which have excluded farmers in other states."

Winter's attorneys concluded by branding the sales tax oppressive. When the sales tax was enacted at this session of the legislature, it was estimated it would produce about $60,000,000 each year in revenue.

The injunction prevents the state from collecting the revenue, first payments of which will be due May 15, but upon the advice of state officials and leaders of protesting merchants in most cases, retailers are charging the three per cent tax until the issue is finally settled.

WEST FRANKFORT MINER STABBED DURING BATTLE

Progressive Miners Largest Dirigible In Fight Rivals In Mine District

Benton, Ill., April 21.—(AP)—Sporadic fighting between members of the Progressive Miners of America and the United Mine Workers occurred on the streets of West Frankfort, Ill., tonight, and one miner was stabbed critically.

Clive Bruce of Benton, was in the West Frankfort hospital suffering from a stab wound in his left breast. The knife penetrated his lung.

Officers said the outbreak apparently was unorganized and consisted principally of fist fights.

The disturbance was the first reported since Sheriff J. E. Brown, who had been in charge of the mine district, announced yesterday that they would defy a temporary court injunction forbidding them to interfere with picketing or other activities of the Progressives.

Officers who said they would not enforce terms of the injunction issued by Circuit Judge J. R. Brown, in Pickneyville, are Albert Davis, Perry county; James G. Frick, Williamson county; Browning Robinson, Franklin county; Eugene Chesser, Saline county; and Charles Wieneke, Christian county.

Picketing efforts which the officers feared would be started today, and result in bloodshed if not prevented, did not occur.

Joe Bauer, of Benton, supervisor for relief in Franklin county, said today that Mayor Murphy Smith, of Zeigler, had appealed to him to aid 357 families, whose heads were without employment.

All of the family heads were represented to Bauer, he said, as members of the Progressives faction. Bauer said he informed Mayor Smith that under the circumstances no aid would be forthcoming from the county.

BONDS SNATCH SPOTLIGHT IN WALL STREET

Rebound in Dollar Cools Inflationary Fever in Stocks, Staples

By Claude A. Jagger
Associated Press Financial Editor.
New York, April 21.—(AP)—A rebound in the dollar cooled the inflationary fever in stocks and staples today.

High grade bonds took the spotlight, in a brisk recovery. Bulls tried to fan the flames in the share market by bidding up the rails, but they failed to retain much of extreme gains of $1 to more than $5, and in the industrial and utilities, several issues cut into recent advances to the extent of about $1 to $5.

Some of the commodity markets likewise receded somewhat, as heavy profit taking appeared. Wheat whittled into its upswing of 6 to 7 cents a bushel since Monday to the extent of 1 1/4 to 1 3/4 cents, and silver futures, up nearly 6 cents an ounce in the past two days, fell back 2 to 3 cents.

A few of the staple markets continued to push higher, however. Copper was quoted at 6 1/4 cents, up nearly a cent in two days. Sugar futures rose .01 to .03 of a cent. The cotton market failed to hold an upswing in the early dealings of 75 to 90 cents a bale, but compared to yesterday's final prices, finished unchanged to 25 cents higher. The textile markets were strong.

Despite the subsiding of some of the markets, business news was cheerful. The weekly mercantile review of Dun & Bradstreet said the usual let down in retail trade after Easter had failed to materialize, and that volume was holding close to the levels of the Easter shopping period of the past fortnight. The wave of public buying, it said, appeared "to be far from having reached its crest."

Republican Leaders Claim

Roosevelt Inflation Plan Will Not Bring Prosperity

Washington, April 21.—(AP)—A biting denunciation of the Roosevelt plan for controlled inflation was issued tonight over the signatures of four prominent congressional Republicans, while Democratic leaders stood their ground confident of more than enough votes for approval of the program in both senate and house.

To a statement that the presidential proposal would cause "no permanent prosperity" that it "violates the most elementary principles" of economics and is "better designed to defeat than to promote business recovery" were attached the names of Senators Reed, Pennsylvania and Walcott, Connecticut, and Representative Snell of New York, the party floor leader, and Representative Luce, Massachusetts.

It was proposed in conference attended also by Ogden Mills, the Hoover secretary of the treasury, and statedly bore his approval, although not his signature.

Only one provision of the Roosevelt plan, pending in the senate as the Thomas inflation amendment to the farm bill, could the G. O. P. leaders subscribe. They were willing, the statement said, to support the proposal that the federal reserve system buy up to three billion dollars worth of government bonds as a means of expanding credit. But, it was added, they could endorse such action only in view of the existing emergency and felt it "contained grave objections."

The section of the legislation providing for the issuance of three billion dollars in new currency was denounced as "inflation on a grand scale" and the provision to empower the federal reserve to reduce the gold content of dollar was dismissed as "unintentional with a prediction it would prove disappointing."

"The plan may rise as a result of fear, not of confidence, and no permanent prosperity can be erected in any such basis," the statement said.

To the minds of many on capital hill, the issuance of the statement marked the mobilization of the first organized opposition to the Roosevelt program legislation, and a definite end to inter-party cooperation on what the president considers emergency matters.

Senator Reed, who is leading the opposition in his branch of congress, already has announced that Republican regulars would discuss the measure at length in an effort to build up public sentiment against it.

He disavowed any intention of filibustering, and Senator Robinson today accepted his assurance to this effect. Nevertheless, the Democrats are ready to clamp the stringent cloture rule on the opposition, should the debate become unduly protracted.

Late today President Roosevelt's wish for prompt enactment was emphasized, as well as his desire that the pending farm bill be passed in addition, although the purpose of the latter may be partially attained by inflationary means. The chief executive, it was learned, fears that farmers might lose the benefit of higher price levels unless power is given the administration to check surplus production.

His anxiety for speedy congressional approval was prompted by the fact his conversations with foreign statesmen began tonight with the arrival of Great Britain's prime minister, Ramsay MacDonald, and the inflation amendment gives him powers useful in obtaining international agreements to stabilize currencies and promote trade revival.

APPLICATIONS FOR CROP LOANS MUST BE SOON

R. E. Heitkamp, field supervisor of the Crop Production Loan Office at St. Louis, Missouri, states he has received instructions from R. H. McElwain, regional manager, regarding the closing date for receipt of applications for crop production loans.

Applications that show they were prepared prior to midnight, April 20 and mailed not later than midnight, May 1, will be accepted.

Applicants are also reminded that it will possibly take one week from time of application before the proceeds of the loan can be received by them. Therefore, they were urged to apply immediately at the Farm Bureau Office where all arrangements have been made to assist them in completing their papers. As has been previously explained these loans are strictly for operating expenses of farmers who can secure credit from no other source. Many Morgan county farmers have availed themselves of this credit.

KIDNAPERS OF JEROME FACTOR

KNOWN, CLAIM

"Jake The Barber" To Continue Search For Abductors

Chicago, April 21.—(AP)—Jerome Factor wrote the climax to his sensational kidnapping by appearing safely at his home today.

Swift sequel to the case was predicted by the father, John, in the apprehension of the conspirators who kept the 19-year-old University student prisoner for eight days.

"I'll put the hunt for the kidnapers," he declared. "We had plenty of clues—hot clues. And we were closing in on them."

"I am pretty sure I know who the guilty men are."

About eight men were involved in the abduction, Factor said, none of them men who had achieved much prominence in the underworld hall of infamy.

When Jerome arrived at the home of his mother, Mrs. Leonard Marcus early this morning, he had an eight-day growth of beard, and $14.05 in his pocket.

When he reached the night of April 11 he carried $15 with him. The difference represented taxi fare from the point of his release to his home, and the elder factor emphatically declared, the sole expense of his return.

"I'd take oath on the body of my son that I did not pay a dime," declared John Factor.

Contents of three letters Jerome wrote to his father during his imprisonment were revealed, giving a chronological story of his captors' efforts to negotiate with the elder factor.

John Factor disclosed details of a strange alliance of police and the underworld during the search for the youth's abductors. Through several gangland chiefs, Factor had enlisted the aid of nearly 500 men who moved in or about the fringe of the city's underworld.

"Those people may be bad," he said, "but they hold kidnapers in deep contempt."

He hadn't paid them a cent for their efforts, he said.

The letters disclosed how the elder and the conspirators communicated through want-ads in a Chicago paper. Factor was "Joe," the kidnapers "Mary."

That "Mary" was more than a name of convenience in the negotiations was indicated by Jerome's account of frequently hearing a woman's voice during his captivity. Factor, Sr., too, told of receiving two telephone calls from a woman, asking him if he was "ready to die."

Shaken, somewhat rested, Jerome accompanied his father to detective headquarters to view suspects. He did not identify them, and the two—Ted Patterson, Edward Strauss and Archie Brown—was released.

SETTLEMENT HAS BEEN REACHED IN REYNOLDS ESTATE

Daughter And Son of Dead Youth Will Receive $2,000,000 Each

Concord, N. C., April 21.—(AP)—An agreement whereby the son of Libby Holman Reynolds and his half sister, Anne Cannon Reynolds, second, would each receive $2,000,000 of the estate of Smith Reynolds, their father, was disclosed here today. The agreement is still subject to approval by a court of proper jurisdiction.

Details of the agreement were contained in a letter written by W. N. Hendren, Winston-Salem attorney for the millionaire Reynolds tobacco family.

The letter was made part of the answer of Mrs. Joseph P. (Annie L.) Cannon, co-guardian of little Anne, to a complaint filed by the Cabarrus Bank and Trust company, of Concord, N. C., seeking to compel her to become party to a legal action to invalidate the agreement by which the baby girl's claim to her father's estate was renounced for $500,000.

A hearing on the bank's petition is scheduled to be held here Monday, before Judge William Warlick.

The share of Smith Reynolds, who was shot to death July 6 in his Winston-Salem home after a drinking party, in the fortune of his father, the late R. J. Reynolds, has been estimated at from $15,000,000 to $20,000,000.

They presented their entire formal concert at Waverly in the evening before a large audience.

The club plans to give its home concert May 3 at Bexley hall. Erlam Ericson is the business manager.

As Winnie Judd Made Last Plea

Winniesanity Trial Is Recessed

County Attorney Is Not Prepared To Make Argument

Florence, Ariz., April 21.—(AP)—Winnie Ruth Judd's sanity hearing was recessed late today until tomorrow by Superior Judge E. L. Green after tenative plans for a night session for the arguments of counsel had been abandoned.

The reason assigned for the order for the recess was "physical inability of Assistant County Attorney Charles Reed to prepare and present his argument to the jury tonight."

While Mrs. Judd sat in the courtroom nervously twisting her handkerchief about one hand, state counsel insisted in the judge's chambers that he specifically warn the jurors that they should not consider that Mrs. Judd is under sentence of death or that the verdict will decide whether she is to die.

The chief of defense counsel, O. V. Willson, protested against such specific instruction, which the state proposed as an added paragraph to the jury charge already prepared.

There is no need, Willson argued, to put so much stress on what the jury is to have in its mind regarding the death penalty. The court's instructions already cover it in setting forth the depositions the jury is to follow.

Both sides in the contest to determine whether the blonde slaver of Mrs. Agnes Anne Leno and Hedvig Samuelsen shall be hanged at dawn next Friday, or be committed to an asylum, had agreed earlier in the afternoon not to call further witnesses.

The experts appearing for Mrs. Judd declared she was insane—a victim of dementia praecox—and unable to understand the death sentence or other circumstances of her situation.

Countering this, state alienists testified she was "shamming" and is aware of her situation, but is nervous as might be expected in the case of a person facing the gallows.

Superior Judge E. L. Green placed no limit on the length of arguments by counsel.

Under the law an unanimous decision by the jury is not necessary, any nine of the jurors may return a verdict.

The jury may not under the theory of the law consider the fact that its verdict will mean to Mrs. Judd life or her sane, it will validate the death warrant. If it finds her insane, the death warrant will be held in abeyance until such time, if ever, sanity is regained.

Today was the fourth time Mrs. Judd has lived through the dawn of a day the law had established as her last. Her scheduled execution this morning was halted by a reprieve until next Friday to permit completion of the sanity hearing.

DEDICATIONS ARE RECEIVED HERE FOR ROUTE 104

The board of county commissioners has received from the state highway department dedications for that part of Route 104 running from Jacksonville thru Pisgah to the old Woodyly Crossing. It is understood the state has expressed a preference for the original survey along the Burlington right-of-way, instead of the re-location of the road to the Pisgah.

A suit is now pending in circuit court in Sangamon county in which a group of county taxpayers ask that the state be restrained from constructing the proposed highway as laid out in the relocation survey.

SENATE LEADERS PLAN TO SPEED UP LEGISLATION

Pres. Roosevelt Wants His Program Rushed Through

By Francis M. Stephenson
Associated Press Staff Writer

Washington, April 21.—(AP)—President Roosevelt tonight opened the international phase of his battle on the depression with Prime Minister MacDonald of Great Britain arriving to talk over very definite ideas for new world economic relations.

But before shaking hands late today with the British statesman at the white house, Mr. Roosevelt put new stimulation behind the all-inclusive domestic program, now pending in congress, to give him almost complete management over American monetary problems here and abroad.

Senator majority leaders agreed with him to speed the legislation, which would empower Mr. Roosevelt to expand credit and the currency and reduce the gold content of the dollar, to enact as part of the pending farm legislation.

They intend to cut short any unduly protracted debate by the severe closure rule.

This measure—the Thomas Inflation amendment—is a very definite part of the president's ammunition to deal with the world situation. The provision for decreasing the amount of gold in the dollar may be made the instrument for obtaining important international agreements to stabilize currencies on a world wide basis.

Before the week ends the chief executive will propose to Ramsay MacDonald, who reached these shores with a request for war debt relief, the following:

Form of the nations to a gold standard at a reasonable rate in the interest of world stabilization of money.

A multi-lateral treaty among the powers to establish silver as a part of the monetary system; and Agreements for world-wide and simultaneous reductions of the tariff barriers of the leading nations.

Just how far Mr. Roosevelt is willing to go on the demands from the European nations for relief on the war debts owed to America, probably will not be determined until he finds what is going to be done on his proposals.

The treaty following Mr. MacDonald here will come before the senate, and will be a very important part of the president's program to deal with the world situation.

It may take a little while for congress to complete the several proposals advanced by the president to give him the management of national affairs that he desires. But within the next two weeks he expects to have definitely before the nation and the world a broad program for lifting the world from the economic morass.

The president encountered his first full-fledged opposition from the public today when he proposed to the senate that the treasury under President Hoover, at the capitol to lead the attack on the currency inflation bill.

The overwhelming Democratic majority, however, quickly rallied behind the latest and broadest of the Roosevelt proposals for control of money and early adoption of the legislation was in prospect.

Moreover, in conference with the president the silver advocates of the western states drafted a provision to extend his authority to include power to the silver content of the dollar and the ratio between gold and silver.

Senators Wheeler, of Montana, and King, of Utah, from the Democratic ranks took up this proposition at the white house and later expressed confidence the president would prove sympathetic. It was Wheeler who led the recent almost successful senate fight for a 16 to 1 fixed ratio between silver and gold.

There was a break during the day in the Democratic support for the monetary legislation as Senators Glass, of Virginia, and McAdoo, of California, two secretaries of the treasury under President Wilson, and Chairman Fletcher of the banking committee voted against extending authority to President Roosevelt to reduce the gold content of the dollar by as much as fifty per cent.

While the senate dug into the inflation issue, the house passed the Wagner-Lewis $500,000,000 bill providing for relief grants to states. A Republican minority attempt to make all advances to the states repayable was easily beaten. An attempt to increase the relief fund to $750,000,000 likewise was rejected, but the house adopted an amendment under which relief administration jobs would be given to non-civil service employees.

Back to Land Move Will Not Solve Problem

Chicago, April 21.—(AP)—The "back-to-the-land" movement will not solve our economic problems, former Governor Philip P. LaFollette of Wisconsin told the council on foreign relations today.

"Instead," he said, "a combination of the dole and work plan is required. The way out is to maintain and increase purchasing power, not to let people go back to primitive self-sustaining existence on the land."

LaFollette cited numerous instances noted on a recent tour of Europe in support of this thesis.

Winchester visitors in Jacksonville yesterday included Mrs. Warren Coultas and Mrs. Thomas Pfeil.

Roads, Relief or Both?
The County Commissioners who have been allocating the county's share of the gas tax revenue for relief expenses, have requested that they be allowed to spend $2,700 of the allotment to purchase right-of-way for Route 100 near Mercedosa. They have contracted for this right-of-way and have been putting off the land owners, because the county did not want the money and they did not want to take it from the gas tax fund.
But the time draws near for another resolution allocating gas tax funds for relief. Since the first of the year the county has done without this money, and the road-building program has been set aside. But the county's section of Route 100 is part of a federal aid road, for which construction contracts have been let. Morgan county does not want to hold up the building of this highway, nor does it wish to longer dispend land owners who need the money due them for right-of-way.
The commissioners have appropriated $1,400 from the next gas tax allotment and they are asking the relief committee to forego its demand for the rest of the money so that all of it can be used to pay for the right-of-way.
With the coming of spring the county's relief needs should be lessening and it should not be necessary to spend so much to care for the unemployed. If the $2,700 is paid to land owners, they can put it in circulation in the county and help the situation somewhat. The county needs Route 100, and it also needs the sec-

CHINESE BANDITS PROVIDE THRILLS
FOR U. S. CITIZEN

Harrowing experiences while a captive of Manchurian bandits were related Friday morning before the students of Illinois College by Dr. Harvey Howard, lecturer. The speaker told how he was captured and spent several months traveling about as a prisoner of the bandits. He was in China to study diseases of the eye,
as he is an eye specialist.
He had gone to the ranch of an American friend and had been there only a day or two when it was reported bandits were bothering the Chinese farmers on the ranch. There were four white persons on the place, two men and two boys, including Dr. Howard. The party went out to drive away the bandits, thinking a few volleys would turn the trick.
But the bandits, 72 in number, charged from the woods, killed one man and one boy and wounded Dr.
Howard and the other youth, whom they then took prisoners. The boy died sometime later. Dr. Howard traveled with the bandits for several weeks and suffered many hardships.
He lost 60 pounds in weight.
Believing he was a White Russian, many of whom have taken refuge in China, the bandits were at one time about to execute Dr. Howard. He was greatly frightened, but, although not ordinarily a man of prayer, he managed to pray. At once the fright left him, he told the students, and he found voice to talk to the bandit leader and convinced him that he was an American. Dr. Howard persuaded the bandits that if they would hold him they might receive a substantial ransom.
The bandit gang was attacked several times by other gangs and companies of Chinese soldiers. One night there was an attack which was suc-

FATHER LAWLER TALKS TO CLUB ON REFORMATION

"Reformation" was the subject of an address delivered by Rev. Father Frank Lawler, at the weekly meeting of Rotary held at the Peacock Inn Friday. Father Lawler was introduced by Fred McDougall, chairman of the April program committee.
Opening his address with the statement, "Reformation means a change that is taking place within us and around us," Father Lawler pointed to the fact that "nature is always changing and is the world's greatest performer." He said that many reforms are taking place. Since the world war, he said, we have all felt that there must be some sort of a change.
Reforms have been taking place for centuries, Father Lawler said. There have been reforms in education, in government in art and in religion.
Father Lawler said that "we cannot legislate morality." He declared that with the passing of the 18th amendment, he believed that the world great reform had taken place. It had been said that asylums, prisons and almshouses would soon be abolished.
After a period of 14 years we find that we still have these institutions ready to receive us, Father Lawler said.
In closing Father Lawler said that there must be some sort of a change.
We as individuals must first have faith in our religion, second, faith in ourselves and third, faith in our country.
"Before peace can be restored to the world," Father Lawler said, "men and nations must return to God."
Frank W. McRoberts was introduced as a new member of the club.
Guests of the club Friday were: Joseph Jackson, Fairfield, Iowa, and Representative Hugh P. Green.

EUREKA NINE TO TACKLE BLUEBOYS HERE TODAY

Athletic Director Frank Walker was under his contract for the coming year at a meeting of the board of education last night, and as far as we know, he is going to accept it, and send it back signed.

Walker has gone a long way in returning Jacksonville to the place it formerly held before something went wrong. Just what it was that went hay-wire, we do not know. It is doubtful if anyone could point to any one thing and say that was the trouble.

Whether what caused Jacksonville high to slip has been done away with, or merely subdued is something else. Anyway, the Crimsons are interested in their athletic program again.

Walker says he is not quite ready to jump into the thickest of the fight yet, but he believes it will not be so terribly much longer. He noticed the change more than ever during the recent basketball campaign, and he's hoping his next fall's football team will deliver as much goods as the material promised.

The board of education in handing Walker another contract, has done what it should do. Oh, well, we have never heard anything about changing coaches, but nevertheless, this column wishes to hand the board a complimentary pat on the back.

Routt high was looking for a baseball game this week-end, but didn't locate any. They're still hoping they'll find some competition today because they want to get in shape for the games which will begin in another week. They'll play any local club, amateur or college.

Augustana College was removed from the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, because of conditions in the library and registrar's office.

The municipal university at Wichita, Kansas, where Bud Gebert, former Notre Dame University and Routt high player has been coaching, also has been dropped by the association for "athletic reasons."

And if the North Central keeps on its toes, it probably will discover plenty of other schools subject to dismissal. There never has been such a scramble for students among the colleges and universities.

Nichols Park, with better than fair ways and greens will be opened Sunday if the present weather holds out. The sun hasn't been quite warm enough to suit everybody, but golfers don't mind. The course is in good shape, and would have been of help if the rainy weather hadn't come along at that time.

AUGUSTANA IS OUSTED FROM LOOP

North Central Association Dismisses Four Colleges and Universities From Accredited List—Add Four Colleges.

Chicago, April 21.—(AP)—The University of Detroit and four colleges were dropped from the accredited list of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools today. Reasons in the case of four of the schools included "athletic conditions."

In addition to the University of Detroit, the other schools dropped were: Augustana College and Theological Seminary, Rock Island, Ill.; Hamline University, St. Paul, Minn.; New Mexico State Teachers College, Silver City, N. M., and the Municipal University of Wichita, Kan.

The action on the colleges came shortly after the association dropped 12 high schools because of inability to meet the association's requirements.

George A. Works, secretary of the board of review, outlined the following reasons for dropping the schools: University of Detroit—"Athletic conditions."

Augustana College—"Inadequate facilities for science teaching, except geology, and as a contributing factor, conditions in the library and registrar's office."

Hamline University—"Lack of effective educational organization as an outgrowth of rather unfortunate conditions of the last several years and athletic conditions."

New Mexico State Teachers College—"General educational conditions."

Municipal University of Wichita—"Athletic conditions."

Four colleges and three junior colleges were added to the accredited list. They were: Findlay College, Findlay, O.; Iowa Wesleyan College, Mt. Pleasant, Iowa; Marquette College, Toledo, O.; and College of St. Benedict, St. Joseph, Mich.

The president of the Detroit school said he would carry the case to the executive committee in efforts to have the university reinstated. A few cases in the past saw reversal of committee decisions, he said, and he hoped to secure similar action.

The association committee also approved extending to the Sioux Falls College, Sioux Falls, S. D., recognition as a four year college. Previously it was accredited for junior college work.

PIRATES WAYLAY REDLEGS 5 TO 1

Pittsburgh, April 21.—(AP)—With an eighth inning explosion of their heavy artillery and a three-hit performance by their moundsmen, the Pittsburgh Pirates opened their 1933 season for the home folks by defeating the Cincinnati Reds 5 to 1.

A disappointing crowd of 13,000—one of the smallest in 30 years—turned out to see the ten-year-old daughter of Honus Wagner, greatest shortstop of all time and now a Pirate coach, toss out the first ball.

For six innings Bill Swift tangled with St. Johnson, Cincinnati ace, in a great hurling duel.

Spectacular fielding by Jim Bottomley and George Grantham checked potential Pirate rallies while "Big Jim" added to their discomfort in the sixth with a home run.

Jensen batted for Swift in the eighth and singled. The Lloyd half of the Waner brothers duplicated the hit and both moved up on Lindstrom's sacrifice. Johnson deliberately passed Paul Waner.

"Big" Traynor doubled to right, scoring Jensen and L. Waner. Suhr completed Johnson's rout for a triple and Benton went to the box for the Reds. Piet's second hit of the day sent Traynor home with the fifth and final run.

The victory, with the defeat of the New York Giants, hoisted the Pirates into first place in the National League.

ATHLETICS NIP SENATORS 3-1

Philadelphia, April 21.—(AP)—Supported by eight hit pitching by Merritt (Sugar) Cain, the Philadelphia Athletics today bunched their hits to take Washington into camp for the second time in a row. The score was 3 to 1.

Once more the bat of Jimmy Fox spoke loudly, driving in the Mack's second run and setting the stage for Lou Finney, who doubled immediately after the slugging first sacker in the third inning.

The Senators lone score was Buddy Meyer's home run in the fifth inning.

The A's jumped into the scoring column in the first inning. With Bishop perched on second, Crowder passed Fox to get at Bing Miller. But the right-fielder crossed the general, and singled neatly through the left side to count Max.

BROWNS SHUTOUT WHITE SOX 4-0

Chicago, April 21.—(AP)—Irving "Bump" Hadley held the Chicago White Sox to two singles, fanned just 23 men, and pitched the St. Louis Browns to a 4 to 0 triumph today.

The husky Brownie right-hander, who once was a member of the Sox, was given a tussle by young Paul Gregory for seven innings, but in the eighth a walk and three hits, along with a hit off Chick Kinsey, who replaced him, accounted for all the St. Louis scoring.

Mule Haas singled off Hadley in the first but was caught up in a double-play. Jack Hayes who singled in the fourth and reached second on Bruce Campbell's error, was the only Chicagoan to reach the magic number. Al Simmons walked with two out in the fourth but got no farther.

BOY WHO KILLED MOTHER, JAILED

Monmouth, Ill., April 21.—(AP)—Arvid Boyer, 20, was committed to the county jail here tonight without bond to await action of the next grand jury on his alleged confession that he killed his mother last Labor Day after quarreling with her about a hired man.

State's Attorney Henry D. Lewis said the boy had made a full confession in which he allegedly said that he shot his mother in the back of her head, weighted her body with an arvil and threw the body in an abandoned well. He said in the alleged confession she had extolled the good qualities of a hired man whom he disliked to such an extent that he lost his temper and shot her with the rifle with which he had been hunting.

Lewis said he would resist any attempt to secure the boy's release on bond and would present the alleged confession at the June term of the grand jury.

BOSTON BRAVES WALLOP GIANTS

New York, April 21.—(AP)—Although they got only four hits, the Boston Braves succeeded in winning their first game of the season and giving the Giants their first defeat when Hal Schumacher's wildness gave Boston a 3 to 1 decision.

Schumacher handed out two passes in the fourth inning, and uncorked a pair of wild pitches, which, with singles by Baxter Jordan and Frank Hogan, produced all the Boston runs.

Harry Seibold weakened after seven good innings and was replaced by Ben Cantwell.

Travis Jackson made his first appearance at short for the Giants since last June, playing the last two innings. He hit a single and started a double play on his only fielding chance.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

MONICA O'DARE, 20 and beautiful, is in love with DAN CARDIGAN, one of the town's best young men. At a local dancing place where she has gone with Dan she meets her friend, SANDRA LAWRENCE, with a handsome and mysterious newcomer, CHARLES EUSTACE. Sandra immediately takes charge of Dan, and Monica, hurt, allows Charles to escort her home.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

THE days dragged on. Monnie had not dreamed there could be pain like this. To know Dan was in the same town and not to see him was sheer torture. May proved to be a month drenched in sweetness. Lila scent filled the air, forsythia blazed in every dooryard, the nights were moonlit, soft and still.

Still no Dan. She did not even see him at the wheel of the roadster, skimming along the roads. At home the family forbore to ask questions. Kay was caught up in a whirl of high school activities. Bill came and went, ate his meals moodily, and slipped back to the garage. Monnie came out of her own date of misery to realize there was something definitely wrong in Bill's sphere. He was more silent, more down than usual. Poor Bill—it was having to work too hard and too early that had weighed him down so that, at 22, he seemed years older.

And their mother—Monnie had twinges of worry about her, too. She seemed cheerful as always but her step was slower. She sighed deeply and quietly when she thought no one was about. All the O'Dares seemed to be drifting. What was it all about? Why did other people have good times, bright, happy homes while the young O'Dares must carry this heavy burden?

At this point in her reflections Monnie always shook herself vigorously. "This is nonsense," she would remind herself. "Aren't we all well and strong? Haven't I a job and a roof over my head—and good friends?"

She was arguing with herself thus one day, hurrying home for lunch, when she saw straight into the arms of a tall man.

"—oh, I beg your pardon!" All scarlet lips, flashing amber eyes, she stared up at him.

"Quite all right," Charles Eustace's deep voice reassured her. "I wasn't on the right side of the road, either."

They laughed together and Monnie's heart lightened. It was good to laugh with someone. She hadn't for days.

"Mind if I turn about and go your way?" Eustace wanted to know. "I'm just bargaining about for exercise."

How tall he was and, yes—how distinguished looking! It was odd she didn't think him better looking than Dan but she didn't. He was nice. Another girl, fancy free, might have found him much more than that but at the moment Monnie's heart was wholly engaged. She was insulated against the charms of
